Co-Operation in Industry

Although sharp differences of opin-tion may exist throughout Canada as to the methods to be employed to promote the prosperity and develop-ment of industry in this Dominion, people are a unit in desiring to see the natural resources of this country developed to their fullest degree for the use and benefit of our own peo-ple and in order to enlarge the ex-port trade of Canada. No thinking man or woman is an-been denied to our people. Now, owing to conditions over which this country has no centucl, it has become a matter of dise recessity that our people should secure their coal requirements largely at hem. If a first the West we must rely almost exclusively this fall and winter upon the output of our western mines, yet, because the lack of development in the past it will be disfault for them to meet the heavy derauds so suddenly thrust upon them.

In past years these mines have frequently been idle during the gummer months, because three was no immediate demand for coal, and because much of it is of a class that cannot be stored in the open, subject to the weather conditions. I Thust be stored under cover. This libs resulted in labor dissatisfaction, because of "layoffs" at the mines, and the operators have had great difficulty in maintaining full and efficient staffs of workers.
Such a condition has show added to the transportation problem, inasmuch as the castbound coal movement from the Alberta mines to Saskatchewan and Manitoba has some at the same privide of the year as the heavy movement of grain from the prairies to the lead of the lakes. In other words the two housest frieght invorments have come together, and both have called for transportation in the same direction—from east to west. If one showed west and the other east, the transportation problem would be simple, but two heavy freight movements in one direction, means a return of long trains of empty car's the etter way, thus adding enormously to transsportation costs which the people have to pay.

Future provision must be made for the transportation and storage of Western coel during the summer.

the use and benefit of our own pepple and in order to enlarge the export trade of Canada.

Birds That Cannot Fly

Wings of Baunyard Fowls Have Become Useless for Flying Wing don't harnyard fowl fly? They can make a fluttering pretence at flight, it is true, but for real hydrogather wings are mades. He was trough the repeting to see them. They have been well fed. Thus the necessity for flying from place to place in search of food has not existed. They have for the same reason been protected as far as possible from attack by animals and from other dangers that would make flight, as a means of escape, a necessity, in course of time, therefore, their wings have become practically useless for purpose of flight. The wings of barnyard fowl are gradually decreasing in size. It may be in the course of time their wings will be nothing more than more stumps, and later still it is guite possible that they will disappear altogether.

the rate of more than one pound per week.

In the United States last year it is estimated by officials at Washington the per capita consumption was 19 pounds. Although little reliance can be placed in this estimate, there is no doubt but that the local consumption in the United States has increased greatly in recent years.

A few years ago the per capita consumption in Canada per annum was a matter of ounces. Through the combined efforts of the Canada Food Board and the Fisheries branch it is estimated that the local consumption at one time reached a point equal to 45 pounds per capita. During 1919 it is estimated that the per capita consumption at one time reached a point qual to 45 pounds per capita. During 1919 it is estimated that the per capita consumption and 5 pounds per annum. Canada is one of the greatest, if not the greatest fish producing communics of the world. # Thorough Lubrication

IMPERIAL Polarine can be depended on to give you thorough lubrication, to keep the eagine running quietly and faultlessly, to take you a 100 miles or 1,000 miles at the least cost for fuel, oil and repairs.

Imperial Polarine forms a piston-to-evilinder seal that maintains compression and utilizes the full power of the fuel. It spreads a thin, yet unbreakable oil film over every friction surface that minimizes wear—it is the perfect lubricant.

Imperial Polarine will not break up under high operating heats. It burns freely with hardly a trace-of carbon. Costs less because it saves depreciation and fuels. Sold in gallon and four-gallon scaled cans, half-barrels and barrels, also 12½-gallon steel kegs, by dealers

Look for the Imperial Polarine Chart of Recommendations when you buy oil. It shows which of the three grades described below is recommended for your car. Use the grades specified, exclusively.

After while he discovered, to his amazetent, that his bank account showed a ment, that his bank account showed a much lapper balance than the stubs of his check book warranted. In fact, while he was drawing checks for small amounts almost daily, his morphy in the bank did not seem to dwindle in the least. For a long time he was at a loss to necount for this astonishing fact until he happened one day to which was an enthusiastic autograph collector. There the author saw one of his own checks, framed and hanging on the wall. The mystery was solved. It appeared that the local shopkeepers found that the offern got more for Kipling's checks by selling them to autograph hunters than they could by cashing them at the bank, and as, although the author kept drawing checks, his balance remained almost intent.
